

A growing Island industry.

Economic news on the Island has been pretty grim this past year. But one local company is hiring, investing, and securing its future.

Marine Harvest Canada employs 550 people from Comox to Klemtu and is now the largest private sector employer on the North Island. We provide long-term, well paying, challenging jobs for biologists and researchers, site managers, plant workers, sales and administrative people.

Our high quality farm-raised salmon is available fresh 365 days a year and is now BC's largest agricultural export.

Each year we contribute $160 million to the Island economy through wages and the purchase of supplies and services.
